Hoboken, NJ – October 9, 2008 – This year’s Hoboken Historical Museum House Tour, on Sunday, Oct. 26, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., offers something for everyone’s tastes in the homes and condos selected from among the city’s finest and most unusual residences. From the turn-of-the-century Italian craftsmanship on display in a Castle Point Terrace home, to the beautiful views from a waterfront loft apartment, to a traditional row home on upper Park Avenue, to a mystery stop on the tour that is sure to surprise and delight tour-goers, the tour allows Hoboken to show off its many eclectic lifestyles.

Visit the House Tour website for views of last year’s tour, by clicking the link below. For more information, visit www.hobokenmuseum.org, or call 201-656-2240.

Tour goers save time and money by buying a ticket voucher in advance for $25, at the Museum, or one of five other ticket sales locations: either of the two Sparrow’s Wines and Liquors locations, Amanda’s restaurant, Brian David Realtors, Prudential Castle Point Realty, or Fleet Feet Sports. This year, tickets are also available for purchase from the Museum website. The Museum is open six days a week at 1301 Hudson St., in the Shipyard complex, from 2 – 9 p.m. on Tues. – Thurs., 1 – 5 p.m. on Fri. and noon – 5 p.m. on weekends.

On the day of the tour, tickets are $30, except for Museum members, who pay $25. Ticket vouchers will be exchanged for the House Tour booklet at the Museum on tour day, between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. The tour takes about two to two and a half hours to complete; doors close at 4 p.m. The tour is self-guided and homes may be visited in any order; a map will be included in the booklet. We thank PNC Bank for their continued generous support.
